••• The Rig-veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammar and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country. Extract from Preface.

The Upper and Lower Ganges canal were closed throughout the month.

Northern division, Ganges canal.—Good general rainfall on 5th, 6th, and 20th, 22nd and moderate rainfall on 11th. Rice began to come into ear about the middle of the month and therewith a strong demand set in which was maintained for the rest of the month. Canal re-opened for rice irrigation on 17th. All crops in excellent condition at end of month.

Anupshahr division, Ganges canal.—There has been good rain up till now and crops are in excellent condition. Westerly wind has however commenced to blow and demand will arise soon if there is no further rain.

Meerut division, Ganges canal.—General rain continued during the month. No demand for any crops. The canal was kept closed at head. Crops are in good condition.

Bulandshahr division, Ganges canal.—Canal closed. No demand. Condition of crops and rainfall good. There is an increase of 12,845 acres in all chiefly under cotton, other food grains and fodder crops due to late rain. The large decrease under sugarcane is due to cotton and fodder crops being sown instead.

Aligarh division, Ganges canal.—Canal closed, there being no demand throughout the month.

Mainpuri division, Lower Ganges canal.—There was well distributed rain all over up to the 25th August when west wind set in. Canal remained closed. Crops are flourishing.

Cawnpore division, Lower Ganges canal.—Rain fell nearly daily during August up to the 22nd and crops, especially cotton, suffered from excessive rain but recovered with the cessation of rain on that date.

Fatehpur division, Lower Ganges canal.—August was wet. The Branch remained closed.

Ghatampur distributary, Fatehpur division, Lower Ganges canal.—August was very wet. The distributary remained closed. By the end of July Ghatampur exceeded the previous maximum khairi area by more than 4,000 acres.

Etawah division, Lower Ganges canal.—Canal was closed throughout the month.

Bhognipur division, Lower Ganges canal.—Kharif crops are in good condition but the outturn of cotton crop does not promise well. Rainfall during the first three weeks was good. No demand for canal water. Ploughing for rabi is in progress.

Lower division, Eastern Jumna canal.—The monsoon gave rain on 10th and 22nd but it was generally light and very unevenly distributed. Demand rose steadily and was full almost everywhere by the end of the month.

Upper division, Agra canal.—There was good rain up to 11th August, thereafter light and scattered showers up to 21st, then no rain till end of the month. Strong west wind has been blowing since 22nd and causing anxiety as un-irrigated crops will wither if this weather continues.

Lower division, Agra canal.—Canal was closed throughout the month. Demand nil.

Mat Branch division, Ganges canal.—Good rain up to 22nd August and canal remained closed during the whole month.

Hathras Branch division, Ganges canal.—Rainfall throughout the month has been poor. Light scattered showers were received up to the 9th and a heavy general fall was registered on the 10th. Since that date, with the exception of 21st when some light showers were received, no further rain has fallen. Crops were in a flourishing condition up to the close of the month. Slight demand for canal water commenced about the third week for some of the rain sown crops. The canal remained closed throughout the month.

Rohilkhand canal division.—The rainfall has been good and supplies satisfactory. There has been a fair demand throughout the month which has been fully met. The rice area sown in the 1st Sub-division is below normal this year. Very large supplies have been run in all the canals throughout the month and it is anticipated the late kharif area irrigated will be the largest yet recorded.

Dhawan canal division.—Excellent rains throughout the month. Crops backward owing to excessive moisture.

Ken canal division.—A wet month. Canal was opened twice but on both occasions rain stopped the demand that was springing up.

Bhabar canal, Tarai and Bhabar Government Estates division.—Owing to the excellent and well distributed rainfall in the Bhabar rice was completed in several villages without recourse to canal irrigation. The river supplies are ample and sufficient to maintain the rice area in the event of a break in the monsoon.

THE HYMNS OF THE RIG-VEDA IN THE SAMHIT AND PADA TEXT, BY PROFESSOR F. MAX MULLER, M.A., IN TWO VOLUMES, PRICE RS. 24; PACKING AND POSTAGE RE. 1-12-0.

The Rig-veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammar and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country. Extract from Preface.

*. The Rig-veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammar and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country. Extract from Preface.

THE HYMNS OF THE RIG-VEDA IN THE SAMHITA AND PADA TEXT, BY PROFESSOR F. MAX MULLER, M.A., IN TWO VOLUMES, PRICE Rs. 24; PACKING AND POSTAGE RE. 1-12-0.

••• The Rig-veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarly knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammar and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country. Extract from Preface.

THE HYMNS OF THE RIG-VEDA IN THE SAMHIT AND PADA TEXT, BY PROFESSOR F. MAX MULLER, M.A., IN TWO VOLUMES, PRICE Rs. 24; PACKING AND POSTAGE RE. 1-12-0.

••• The Rig-veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic Hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammar and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country. Extract from Preface.
